Andrew Romanoff, Speaker of the Colorado House of Representatives, is scheduled to deliver the keynote speech at Friday's Education Matters 2008 Business Leadership Forum.

The annual event, hosted by Impact on Education and the Boulder Chamber of Commerce, is designed to help members of the business community understand the link between public education and business, officials say.

Pat O'Brien, Wells Fargo's local market president, and Gary Horton, chief executive officer of Western Disposal, also will make presentations of partnerships between local businesses and schools.

The breakfast event will be held from 7 to 9 a.m. on Friday at the Millennium Harvest House, at 1345 28th St., in Boulder. The cost is $25 and tickets can be purchased from the Boulder Chamber of Commerce's Web site, www.boulderchamber.com.
